Dear Stamp Enthusiast:

Welcome to the Summer 2001 issue of USA Philatelic, the official source for current U.S. stamps and stamp products.

Cover to cover, this entire issue is filled with important stamps and attractive collectibles. And to make it all that much easier to get them, we have a variety of convenient Subscription Programs for you—as outlined on page 9.

USA Philatelic is also proud to introduce an entirely new way of collecting: Collector Packets. The section debuts in this catalog, and it offers total convenience plus customized choices in building your collection. (As always, you can also acquire any of our stamps or stamp products simply by filling out the enclosed order form.)

Don't miss exciting USPS products like the Inaugural Keepsake, the 2001 Postal Portrait Book and many more in Summer 2001. And be sure to check out our expanded Last Chance section before the many colorful issues featured there go off sale forever. Take a look at what's ahead in stamps in the Upcoming Issues section, too.

USA Philatelic does everything possible to bring you the most up-to-date information about U.S. stamps. But, of course, once the ink is dry, any issue begins to date. With so many changes due to the new rate case, you may want to visit www.usps.com for the absolutely latest news. Or call 1 800 STAMP-24 (1 800 782-6724) or fax us at 816-545-1212. Whether you're placing an order or just have a question, we're always ready to help.

Sincerely,

Catherine Caggiano

Celebrating the Centennial of the Nobel Prize

In March of 2001, Sweden Post joins the United States Postal Service to honor the 100th anniversary of the Nobel Prize. Like the U.S., Sweden has an advisory committee made up of members who cover a wide field. With the U.S. version of the Nobel Prize stamp and Sweden's Nobel Prize booklet, collectors in both countries and around the world have a new opportunity to own a piece of history.

- Created by Polish-born Swedish stamp engraver, Czeslaw Slania, who engraved his 1000th stamp (setting a world record) in 2000.
- The latest in a series of joint issues with Sweden, including a 1983 stamp, "Treaty of Amity and Commerce 200 Years," a 1986 stamp on the theme of stamp collecting and a 1988 stamp, "New Sweden, 1638-1988."

B Roy Wilkins

The 24th stamp in the Black Heritage series features civil rights leader Roy Wilkins. Born in 1901 in St. Louis, Wilkins helped organize the 1963 March on Washington. Leading the NAACP from 1955 to 1977, he played a key role in the campaign for the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

C Claude Pepper

In his 60 years of public service, Claude Pepper served in both the U.S. Senate and the House of Representatives. A longtime champion of elderly rights, he chaired the House Select Committee on Aging. This commemorative stamp was issued to mark the 100th anniversary of his birth. The stamp art was created by Mark Summers from a photograph by Yousuf Karsh.

COMMEMORATIVES

Stars, stripes and military strength.

A U.S. Navy Submarines:
Los Angeles Class

Nuclear-powered submarines radically altered the nature and effectiveness of undersea warfare by their ability to dive to very low depths and to remain submerged for very long periods of time.

B U.S. Navy Submarines Prestige Booklet

The U.S. Navy purchased its first submarine, the USS Holland, in 1900. A century later, the U.S. Postal Service celebrates that historic vessel and traces the further development of undersea military technology with the five stamp designs highlighted in this 16-page prestige booklet. Artist Jim Griffiths created original paintings of the USS Holland, the S-class sub that followed, the Gato-class sub of World War II, the Los Angeles-class nuclear attack sub and today's 560-foot long Ohio-class submarine armed with 24 Trident missiles. The booklet is rich with photos and stories of actual wartime submarine duty. It was designed and art directed by Carl Herrman.

Exploring the vastness of space in stamps.

Stamp collecting can take you so many places. Even to outer space! Land on the moon, escape gravity, see through the eyes of Edwin P. Hubble—all in stamps. Featured are three holographic firsts and a chance to share the views of four talented young people looking at our universe.

A Space Achievement and Exploration
This $11.75 postage stamp is the first circular, hologram stamp in U.S. history. It features a holographic view of Earth from the Apollo 17 spacecraft and shows the continents of Africa and Antarctica.

B Landing on the Moon

In 1969, the first man stepped onto the moon, keeping President Kennedy's promise to put an American on the moon "by the end of the decade." This stamp, with its hologram of a lunar lander, commemorates the Apollo flights to the moon. The selva is a photograph taken during the Apollo 16 mission in 1972.

G Edwin Powell Hubble

Hubble determined that other galaxies exist outside of our own and are receding from it, demonstrating that the universe is expanding. The Hubble Space Telescope (HST) was named in his honor and launched into orbit in 1990. It provides astronomers today with a clearer look into space than they could achieve with any Earth-based observatory. The 18" x 24" poster includes five water-activated stamps displaying images produced by the HST. The poster background is a photograph of Edwin P. Hubble and enlarged images of cosmic phenomena.
